Lambs that learn to walk in snow When their bleating clouds the air Meet a vast unwelcome, know Nothing but a sunless glare. Newly stumbling to and fro All they find, outside the fold, Is a wretched width of cold.

As they wait beside the ewe, Her fleeces wetly caked, there lies Hidden round them, waiting too, Earth's immeasureable surprise. They could not grasp it if they knew, What so soon will wake and grow Utterly unlike the snow.

SUTTON CELEBRATING 150 YEARS 1867-2017

Sutton's Sesquicentennial!

(150 year anniversary)

What a timely occasion to reflect on the importance of community in our lives. Listening to the chatting and laughter of neighbours and families catching up at the Sutton Community Bonfire Night highlighted the value of organising such events. The event was organised jointly by St Peter's Church Group (SRMD), Sutton Rural Fire Brigade and Sutton District Community Association Inc.

Our community shares stories, supports each other and has fun together. All ages, all cultures, all religions, everyone together. Thank you to all who contributed to the event.

Research by Dan Buettner in the National Geographic Magazine (Nov 2005) on the places in the world where people lived the longest showed that engagement in family life and feeling part of a community were two crucial factors for longevity.

A beautiful anniversary cake made by The Baker at Sutton was cut by Ron Hardy, representing families who have lived in the community for generations and the Reverend Dr Royce Thompson, Pastor of St Peter's Church, Sutton.

Community in the Past

In 1867, life for the farming community around Sutton would have relied on their neighbours for help with jobs such as shearing and moving stock as well as supporting local families during times of hardships.

In 1895 on 1st November the former Duntroon blacksmith and Canberra Postmaster, Francis James Williams established Sutton Post Office. He also established a blacksmith's in Sutton.

Disaster struck on 22nd February 1907 when the blacksmith's was destroyed by fire. At this time both Francis and Frank his son were blacksmiths. The community rallied together and the blacksmith's was rebuilt using voluntary labour. In a photograph in 'Gundaroo' by Errol Lea – Scarlett (1972) it shows generations of families helping rebuild the lives of their neighbour, Frank Williams.

The kind neighbours were Joe Milan, a 'Syrian hawker' and his son Frankie; Dick, Eliase, Fred and Bill Butt; Jack, Reg, Archie and Ev Rowley, along with Joe Sharpe and his son, Joe Sharpe junior, Mick Leach, Tom Cartwright with his children, Kathleen and Linda; Diogene Smith. Many of these family names remain in the community today.

Reading through articles from the last 150 years in the Queanbeyan Age and Goulburn Penny Post, there are many examples of community spirit. Dances are held to raise funds for families and best wishes are sent to neighbours to return to better health.

Community today - 150 years on!

In Sutton, a community spirit is still alive and well! The Sutton Community Bonfire showed locals working together and having fun together. This year was special as we celebrated 150 years of Sutton.

A beautiful anniversary cake made by The Baker at Sutton was cut by Ron Hardy, representing families who have lived in the community for generations and the Reverend Dr Royce Thompson, Pastor of St Peter's Church, Sutton.

Here are some future opportunities to catch up with friends and family.

150 years of Sutton – Saturday 9 September

September 9th – Come together to celebrate Sutton's sesquicentennial at the Village Hall.

A Memories Gallery and Afternoon Tea – look at old photographs and documents in the heritage Village Hall. We hope to bring together older members of the community for a reunion to share their stories.

Bush Dance! - Whether you want to dance, sit and listen to music or catch up with your extended family and neighbours, just come and join in! The famous 'Paverty Bush Band' will play Bush ballads, traditional shearing songs and lead us in some great dancing. A delicious supper including pies and sausage rolls generously donated by Louise and Nick from The Baker at Sutton will be served. Tickets on sale soon!

150 year Celebratory Book - Our Village Book celebrating 150 years of Sutton will include more facts of community events in the past. Why don't you get involved? Have a look on 'Trove' website from the National Library to see what you can find on Sutton. Or just jot a few memories down on an email and send it to us.

Christmas Party in December – activities will feature our rural past. Let us know your ideas!

How to get involved in your community:

- Share your ideas and let us know how you can help celebrate the last 150 years! Come to events and meet your neighbours.
- · Jot down your memories or research your house or land
- Come along to the next Sutton and District Community Association Inc meeting on Monday 7.30pm 19 June and find out what's going on. All residents are welcome.

We would like to give a special 'Thank you' to Jon Sleeman who is leaving the committee. Along with many other roles over the years, Jon has been the SDCAI representative on both the Bonfire Committee and Sutton Public School P&C committee. The barbecue is a key feature of the Bonfire night and we thank Jon for all his hard work coordinating this.

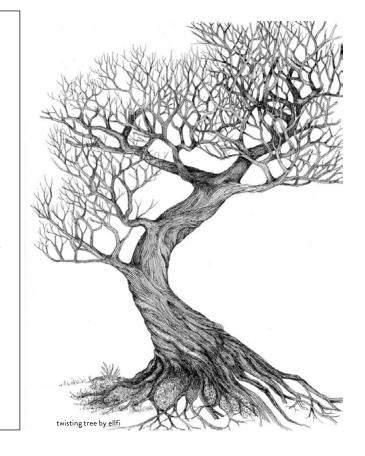

Important information on the use of ground water supplies from NSW Health

NSW Health has released updated information for all groundwater users. As always, it is recommended that groundwater is not used for drinking, cooking and personal hygiene (including cleaning teeth and bathing) without testing and appropriate treatment, including disinfection.

There are links to further information from NSW EPA, DPI and a "How to" on taking your own water sample if necessary. Rain water tank and also private water supply information (for businesses such as food premises an caravan parks) is also included.

See the following link http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/environment/water/Pages/Groundwater.aspx

Because groundwater is not monitored or disinfected like town water supplies, it cannot be assumed that the water is safe to use for domestic purposes. It could be contaminated with sewage, heavy metals or chemicals and there is an increased risk of this occurring within villages. If you have any questions about this matter, contact Council's Environmental Health Team, or NSW Public Health Unit on 1300 066 055.

Wrap up of the Sutton Community Bonfire Night

We would like to thank everyone who came along and attended the 9th Sutton Community Bonfire Night at the end of May. Despite having to postpone the event by a week, due to rain, it was great to see so many people supporting this annual event!

The aim of the event has always been to bring together residents, families, friends and neighbours in our community and district for a relaxing and enjoyable evening and the opportunity to catch up, and in this regard it was a huge success. The children certainly appeared to enjoy the night, with sparklers and marshmallows and many different games as well as the competition, which was new this year. Congratulations go to the invited fire lighters Gay and Alan McNeill, who did a superb job getting the bonfire underway.

The event could not take place were it not for the efforts and support of many groups and individuals within the community. First and foremost thanks go to the St. Peter's Church (SRDM) and their volunteers for once again hosting the event, and for providing insurance cover as well as power, hot drinks, power, toilet etc. Thanks also go to the Sutton & District Community Association for their support and for providing the funding for the food. Many thanks also to Sutton Volunteer Rural Fire Brigade and its volunteers for fire safety, and for providing gazebos tables and chairs, a BBQ, sponsoring the fruit boxes, manning the gates, lighting etc. The continued support of these three community groups in supporting and promoting this event is greatly appreciated.

The staff of Sutton Public School were involved in helping with the BBQ and the competition entries, it was wonderful to see the their dedication to our community especially when most of them live elsewhere. Once again the Sutton Country Bumpkins Early Learning Centre did a fantastic job in providing the hot soup, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all; and is another indication of the Centre's commitment to our community. Thank you, Louise and Nick Smith of The Baker at Sutton for generously donating all the bread for the BBQ. The Bakery also created the cake to commemorate Sutton's 150 Anniversary, which was gluten free and very tasty. We also thank Dave of O'Sullivans Waste for providing the bins and removing the rubbish free of charge. Neil Grubb (again) generously donated a dozen bales of straw, thank you. This year the Sutton SES Unit also supported the event by providing some of the lighting, it was good to have their support and we look forward to their involvement in future community events.

We also greatly appreciate help from the following;

The Sutton Chatter, Sutton Public School and the local businesses who helped to publicise the event through articles, posters and notices for us. Sue Davidson who again gave her time to obtain and prepare the sparklers. Maree and Bruce Champ and Liz Bray kindly allowed us the use of their trailers for the transport of many loads of timber. Colin Barrett is thanked for the use of his small truck for transporting gear during setting up and clearing up. Craig Cartwright and many, many other volunteers gave generously of their time to help with setting everything up on the day, then clearing away.

It is this spirit of willingness to help and be involved in community events that grow and build the community spirit that is so fundamental to rural life. Thank you all.

There are a few items of lost property, that have been found after the event, mostly personal items such as torches, however, there is one item of some value. Please contact Yvonne Barrett on 0409 951 388.

Children's Competition

We had an amazing response to the children's competition, a new activity for the event, with 175 entries! Congratulations go to the six prize winners whose answers were the closest; they will each received a book token. The answer to the competition question - "How many trailer loads of timber were collected for the bonfire pile?" was 20 smaller trailer loads and 8 large trailer loads.

SUTTON LANDCARE

Conservation of Box-gum Grassy Woodlands

Sutton Landcare Group will next meet at 7.30pm on Tuesday 13 June 2017 at Sutton Public School. Our guest speaker will be Senior Experimental Scientist Jacqui Stol from CSIRO's Land and Water Division.

Jacqui will present the latest science and the best ways to recognise and manage Box-Gum Grassy Woodland ground-layers to maintain a healthy grassy sward dominated by Kangaroo Grass and Poa Tussock, and to optimise native plant diversity. She will draw on many of the examples and information from her recently published booklet "Jewels in the landscape – Managing very high conservation value ground layers in Box-Gum Grassy Woodlands".

This presentation should be of particular interest to Sutton village residents because Jacqui will explore and recommend management strategies that could be applied to the area next to the school, locally known as "Sutton Common".

After the presentation there will be a short discussion, followed by supper. Everyone is welcome.

Further details on Sutton Landcare Group may be found on our website or by contacting our secretary Marchien Van Oostende on 0402 986 934 or emailing sutton.landcare@gmail.com.

Aboriginalled walks

On Saturday 15 July and Sunday 16 July 2017, the Ginninderra Catchment Group in collaboration with Sutton Landcare Group, will run two walks on Jane and David Vincent 's farm "Gollion" Westmead Lane Sutton. The morning walks will be to an ochre quarry site and also to other points of interest such as several scar trees. The walks are to be led by well-known Ngannawal/Ngambri Elder, Matilda House, accompanied by renowned indigenous archaeologist Dave Johnson.

The walks will be repeated on 5 and 6 August, so mark these dates. Further details to follow.

WILDCARE

Watchout: wildlife about

Watchout for wildlife

Anyone using Australian roads can see that wildlife is often killed by cars and other vehicles. Kangaroos, wombats, possums and other marsupials, echidnas, birds, reptiles – all are vulnerable.

This may be stating the obvious, but one way to reduce the number of animals being injured or killed is to simply drive more slowly. In so doing you will markedly increase your reaction time. Kangaroos often move in groups, so if one is spotted crossing a road it is likely others will be following. Particularly at dawn/dusk and at night when animals are more active, driving slower at night and being especially vigilant will prevent wildlife casualties. Nocturnal animals, such as possums and wombats, are also obviously more at risk after dark.

In a report on wildlife mortality on roads, Dr Daniel Ramp of UNSW wrote: "Modifying our own behaviour is perhaps the most simple and significant way we can minimise the effect of roads on wildlife." He also noted, "driver speed is highly correlated with collisions".

As we approach the winter months, we should be aware that when daylight is shorter, more kangaroos are hit by cars. The insurer AAMI recently examined 20,000 claims and found that collisions with animals peaked from June through to August. The majority of these involved kangaroos. In an AAMI press release, spokesman Michael Mills reported that collisions between vehicles and animals on Australian roads jumped dramatically in winter: "Shorter days during winter mean we're on the roads more at times when animals are on the move, and combined with poor weather conditions and reduced visibility, make the chances of hitting an animal more likely." AAMI data also showed that the majority of animal-related crashes happen towards the latter part of the week, with Friday being the worst day.

The analysis pinpointed the worst spots in the nation for animal-related collisions, with Queanbeyan being named the "road-kill capital of Australia". Goulburn was also identified as another hotspot for hitting animals on roads.

If you do hit an animal, please stop and check. It may be injured and in for prolonged suffering if not assessed, and there might be a live joey in the pouch in need of rescue. Call Wildcare's 24/7 helpline on 6299 1966, or the relevant wildlife rescue group for the road you are travelling on.

By the way, if you are looking to support a local charity, with a tax-deductible end-of-the-financial-year donation, how about Wildcare? Contentious Character: Plenty to talk about Contentious Character is a cool climate winery, artfully set in the Wamboin hills, 30km east of Canberra. Whether you come to us, or our wines come to you, we'll give you plenty to talk about.

Our newly uncorked website [https://contentiouscharacter. com.au] will take you behind the scenes. There's a little bit of founder history, what we're doing now – and what's in store for lovers of wine.

If you want to really experience our vintages, come to the cellar door and spend some time. Be the first to taste our new Contentious Character range:

2004 Late Harvest Riesling
2013 Rose
2015 Merlot
2015 and 2016 Pinot Noir
2015 and 2016 Chardonnay
2015 and 2016 Riesling
2015 Pinot Gris Wooded or Unwooded
2016 Pinot Gris.

Take up our introductory offer of a mixed dozen for $246, which is 40% cheaper than the full price of $411. Or join the Contentious Collectors Club so you never miss out. We send a case of 12 bottles of wine carefully selected for your taste every 2, 3 or 6 months – and you get up to 25% off any extra bottles you buy.

Visit our cellar door & kitchen fireside, over Winter, and you go into the draw to win a Fireside Snuggler Pak, worth $362. The Pak comes from our Founders Museum collection. It boasts three multi-award-winning wines – 2001 Shiraz, 2007 Merlot and 2004 Chardonnay – as well as 2003 Riesling, 2005 Cabernet Merlot and more.

These wines, like us, show there's definitely an art to aging gracefully.

Also on the June long weekend, sample our new Contentious Character range with Vintage Flights of Founders Museum Rieslings and Pinot Noirs from 2003 to 2014. Enjoy a shared plate paired to the wines for only $40. No need to worry about seat belts. Just book your flight on Facebook, email or on the phone.

Finally, celebrate early and come for Christmas in July on Saturday 22nd by our toasty fireside. It's an opportunity to relish the exquisite coupling of local wine and food for only:

- $80 each for 3 courses with a glass of Pinot Gris 2009 on arrival
- $105 with a glass of wine on arrival plus paired glass of wine with each course
- $50 for kids under 12.

Book now through felicity@executiveeventssolutions.com.au

Remember, at Contentious Character we grow our own, make our own and pair local food to local wine, not the wine to the food. Now that's hardly contentious.

Come visit over the long weekend and celebrate the launch of our Contentious Character 2015 & 2016 vintages and our winter menu. Our Vintage Flights, so popular during wine week, will be taking off again. Enjoy six vintages of either Pinot Noir or Riesling with a paired food plate for $40. There will be little surprises in store too!

Book your seats at contentiouscharacter.com.au and while you're on our new site, sign up for our newsletter, or join our Collectors Club.

Equine Hospital Gastroscopy in horses

Images: These images depict gastric ulcers which have been identified in patients at Canberra Equine Hospital.

What is gastroscopy?

It is a procedure that is carried out which enables a veterinarian to view the inside of a horse's stomach through a 3 metre long camera, called an endoscope. This tube is passed into the stomach via one of the nostrils and is the only accurate way to diagnose ulcers in the stomach of a horse.

What does gastroscopy diagnose?

Gastroscopy can also help to identify tumours, stomach impactions and other abnormalities of the upper gastrointestinal tract.

How do you get the camera/scope into the stomach?

This endoscope has been designed to reach the horse's stomach and the first part of the small intestine. In the same way that you would pass a tube for a colic patient, the endoscope with a smaller diameter is passed through the horse's nose to the back of the throat, where it is swallowed. It will then travel down along the oesophagus and into the stomach.

Does scoping hurt the horse?

NO, scoping a horse is not a painful procedure. Once the scope has been passed into the nose, it is usual for the horse to find this action mildly uncomfortable, likely more of a 'ticklish' feeling. However, whilst the procedure is painless, being surrounded by many people and strange equipment can be a little stressful for a horse and therefore sedation is used to combat this.

How do I prepare my horse for a gastroscopy procedure?

It is very important that we are able to see the entire stomach during the procedure and therefore fasting your horse for at least 12 hours before hand is absolutely necessary.

If you have any questions regarding your horse, please do not hesitate to call or e-mail the office on 6241 8888 or equine@canberravet.com.au

Indian Myna numbers on the rise

Now is the time to get rid of them before they start destroying the nests and killing the chicks of native birds

A reminder that we have a trap for catching Indian Myna birds, which are a pest and are being seen in increasing numbers around the area again. It was used very successfully in the past, so if anyone would like to use it please get in touch with Philippa Lawrence: philippa@sproutdesign.com.au

Sutton Primary School News

New Learning for Teachers and their Students

We are pleased to announce the introduction of iPLAY to Sutton Primary School. iPLAY is an internet based professional learning program to help teachers promote physical activity in primary schools, improving learning and overall health for all students. iPLAY is part of a research study developed by ACU and funded by the NSW Department of Education School Sport Unit. Through our participation in this program our teachers will learn new skills and strategies supporting the conduct of sport and physical activity lessons that engage and motivate students, and improve behaviour and learning.

iPLAY is built around the NSW Quality Teaching Framework. Researchers from ACU will visit our school to collect data that will evaluate the effects of iPLAY on teachers and students. The benefits of this program are many:

- No cost to our school
- · Leadership opportunities for staff
- iPod Touch® and set of activity monitors provided to the school

- Access for teachers to the iPLAY website and mobile app
- Individualised feedback and mentoring for all teachers
- Building capacity to teach sport and physical activity in our school.

Red Cross Pillow Case Project

Disaster resilience is the ability to anticipate, prepare for, respond to, adapt to and recover from the impact of emergencies. Practical skills that contribute to disaster resilience can be learned and practised. Children who participate in disaster resilience building activities have been shown to be better equipped to deal with an emergency. The Red Cross Pillow Case Project seeks to assist children to:

- Understand and discuss the importance of being prepared
- Prepare their mind for the thoughts and feelings that may arise before, during and after an emergency
- Know the difference between need and want items and what to pack in an emergency kit.

On Monday 15 May, Mrs Claire Marlow of the Queanbeyan Red Cross, assisted by a volunteer with Red Cross Emergency Services presented this program to our Year 3/4 classes. Each student was given a pillowcase to decorate and take home, to start their own personal emergency kit. We are grateful to their kind support of our students and school.

Sutton YMCA Out Of School Hours Care

The School and YMCA are continuing to work collaboratively to ensure the best care for our students outside of normal school hours. A Vacation Care Program will be held on site at our school during the July vacation period. Any family in the district wishing to enrol their children in this service are asked to contact the YMCA Children's Services on 6242 4040.

District Cross Country

45 students participated in the District race at Captain's Flat Primary School on Tuesday 16 May.

Mrs Campbell and Ms Burgess supported the team on the day. Congratulations to everyone who competed with the best runners in our district.

ADFA Cadets to visit Sutton

The UNSW Canberra at ADFA, with the support of their Defence partners, has offered Sutton Primary School the outstanding opportunity for our Stage 3 students to take part in their Aviation Outreach Program.

The Aviation Outreach Program (AOP) is based on a very successful program established in the UK, by the Royal Aeronautical Society's (RAES) STEM outreach program and aims to introduce school children to the fascinating world and people of flying, aerospace engineering, and space.

ADFA Officer Cadets will deliver a presentation combining PowerPoint slides and other 'dynamic' presentation skills to entertain and inform the audience. Following this presentation of the 'theory', the officer cadets will lead groups of students in an interactive activity. The program is to be held on Thursday 8 June 2017 from 9.30am—11.30am in our school hall.

Incidents during May

The Brigade was responded to three incidents during May. The first of these was a single vehicle motor vehicle accident on the Federal Highway, to which Sutton 1 with a crew of three was responded. The second callout, again a single vehicle accident on the Federal Highway, occurred a few days later to which Sutton 1 with a crew of three and a Brigade member in their own vehicle responded. The Brigade were responded to yet another motor vehicle accident, but the crew of three were stood down before departing station after it was confirmed that the incident was in the Wamboin Fire Brigade area.

Training news

In the May training session the Brigade's Training Officer Eddy Tillotson continued the topic of Structural Firefighting which had commenced in the previous session in May. The Brigade is responded to this type of incident from time to time, though thankfully they do not occur very often. After briefly revising how a fire develops in a building, from the last session, this session went on to cover how the Brigade responds to a structural fire, what strategies are used for combating this type of fire, what we do and what we don't do and very importantly covered the very different risks and safety issues that structural fires present compared to bush fires and vehicle fires.

This was followed by two practical exercises. The first was a mock structural fire scenario in which tankers were "responded" and the crew members carried out a dry run as if fighting a house fire. This was followed by a pumping exercise down at the river, to revise pumping between tankers via relays, an important skill required for structural fires. Once again it was good to see several of our newer members attending and participating in this session. Also in training news, seven Brigade members attended First Aid courses held on consecutive weekends at Yass Fire Control during May.

Community Bonfire Night

The Brigade was very pleased to be able to support the Sutton Community Bonfire Night again this year. In addition to fire safety, the Brigade provided gazebos, tables, chairs, BBQs, generators and lighting etc. and also the fruit box drinks. Many thanks go to all the Brigade members who gave their time to assist with this community event.

Winter and home fire safety

That time of year is already upon us when we need to consider and prepare for the very different kinds of fire risks and threats that may impact on our homes during the winter months. "It is easy to overlook these fire risks" said Brigade Captain John Cooper, who went on to add that "it's a sad fact that every winter a number of homes, and sometimes lives, are lost to fires which could be prevented." In order to increase fire safety and awareness, this feature highlights some of the main winter fire risks and the ways in which those risks can be reduced.

Home fire safety

The main fire risks to homes during winter are related to the use of heating whether it be wood fires or of other types. With wood fires the main risk is chimney fires, which are caused by accumulation of creosote on the inside of the chimney flu. To reduce this risk the chimney should be cleaned at least once a year, only well seasoned (airdried) wood should be used and have smaller and hotter fires which burn more completely and produce less smoke.

What to do if a chimney fire occurs

Firstly evacuate the building, making sure that everyone is accounted for, and then immediately call 000. If it is safe to do so, with no risk to your life, ensure the glass door on the wood stove and the air inlets are closed – this restricts the air supply so the fire burns less intensely. Use a hose to spray the roof to reduce fire spread to the rest of the house and continue to monitor the chimney for at least three hours after the fire is out. Never attempt to remove burning fuel from the fire as this may result in the fire being spread around the house, burns or injury and allows air into the fire hox.

Fire extinguishers and fire blankets can effectively control a small fire and may prevent the loss of homes. Photo: Graham Scofield.

Hot ashes from the wood fire are another cause of fires, when they are thrown out into dry grass, or on the compost heap or into the dustbin. So when cleaning out your fires dispose of your hot ashes carefully; let the ashes cool before disposal.

Other heaters

With electric heaters, ensure that the wiring is not frayed or in poor condition. With gas and oil heaters, ensure that there are no leaks in the pipes and that they are not damaged. With all types of heater ensure that there are no objects such as furniture or flammable materials such as curtains or bedding etc. within at least a meter of the heater and never place clothes on a heater to dry. Electric blankets should be checked to ensure that the power lead is in good condition, and always turn them off when not in use. With clothes driers the accumulation of lint in the drier may result in a fire, so they need to be regularly cleaned to prevent these fires occurring.

Electrical wiring

Damaged or faulty electrical wiring is another cause of home fires and with the increased use of electricity during the winter months the risk increases. If you have any concerns about your home's wiring contact a qualified electrician.

Smoke alarms, fire extinguishers and fire blankets

Smoke alarms are an inexpensive but very effective way to protect the lives of your family members. Test your smoke alarms and make sure they are in good working condition, clean them with a light vacuum and change the battery twice a year, remember that hard wired alarms also have backup batteries in case of power failure. Fire extinguishers and blankets are also readily available and inexpensive, and if used correctly and promptly they may knock down and control a fire sufficiently to prevent property loss. The correct type of extinguisher must be used for the type of fire based on what material is burning. The Brigade can provide residents with more information and practical training on the use of fire extinguishers and fire blankets, please call the Brigade's Community Liaison Officer Brad Schafferius on the number below if you are interested.

Smoke alarms literally do save lives! Every home is required to have at least one on each level. Photo: Graham Scofield.

Pile Burns

Many residents take the opportunity to burn off vegetation waste over the winter months, but vigilance and good preparation are still necessary for burn offs conducted during winter. Pile burns should never be left unsupervised; the RFS is frequently called out to pile burns that have been left unattended and "escaped". Ensure that the area around the pile has been cleared to reduce the risk of "escape". Under no circumstance should builder's materials or general waste or plastics or treated pine logs be burnt on pile burns, as all of these materials may produce toxic fumes. The Brigade has free brochures with guidelines for pile burns; please call our Community Liaison Officer on the number given below if you would like a

It is a legal requirement, under the Rural Fires Act of NSW, that residents make the necessary notifications when they intend to have a pile burn. Your local Fire Control Centre (during office hours) and your neighbours, and preferably also your local brigade, must be informed at least 24 hrs. before you intend to light your fire. We are often asked "why is it necessary to make the notifications for pile burns during winter?" If smoke sighting are reported, via 000, then the RFS is required by law to respond the nearest Brigade. If, however, you have made the notifications and your burn is listed on the weekly log sheet then a "response" is not required. This means that volunteer crews do not have to be dragged away from work or home to needlessly attend a pile burn. So please help us, and remember to make those notifications. We especially thank all of the Sutton residents who have been making the notifications. Road safety

Sadly the Brigade is responded to several motor vehicle accidents each year, with a marked increase during the winter months when driving conditions on the road are more difficult. There are a number of useful tips to follow to help reduce the likelihood of having an accident and adding to the statistics.

Firstly slow down and drive to the conditions, and therefore allow more time for your journey during the winter months.

Braking distances increase significantly in wet and / or icy conditions. Leave a greater gap between your vehicle and the vehicle in front.

Poor visibility also leads to many accidents, particularly when overtaking. So ensure that you use your vehicle's headlights in rain, fog and low light conditions, and don't overtake if you cannot see sufficiently far enough ahead.

And the fourth main risk is flooding and especially flooded crossings. Again both the RFS, and more commonly our colleagues at the SES, are responded to numerous calls of motorists and residents in trouble at flooded crossings. It does not take much depth of water to cause instability even for larger vehicles, and there is no telling what hazards and obstructions might be submerged below the water even if it is only shallow.

More information

The Brigade has a range of free home fire safety, extinguisher and pile burn information leaflets and brochures. To obtain copies of these or to enquire about any home fire safety and /or pile burning issues please contact the Brigade's Community Liaison Officer Brad Schafferius on 0401 890 358.

POSITION VACANT

Waterwatch Coordinator needed for Ginninderra Catchment Group

Ginninderra Catchment Group is seeking a Waterwatch Coordinator who is passionate about the environment, especially water quality. The successful applicant will work with volunteers, community groups and stakeholder organisations, promoting and implementing the Waterwatch objectives and water monitoring program for the Upper Murrumbidgee catchment in the north of ACT and nearby parts of NSW (the Yass River and the Murrumbidgee between ACT and Lake Burrinjuck). This paid parttime appointment is from July 2017 until 30 June 2018, with possible extension.

For details, please see www.ginninderralandcare.org.au

Applications are due by Tuesday 13 June.

CHURCH NOTICES

St Peter's, Sutton and St Andrew's, Wamboin (SRMD)

Last Friday the little church in Poppet Road, Wamboin, was bursting at the seams as a large crowd from far and wide gathered in the sunshine to celebrate a long and fruitful life, and sadly farewell, Dick Crampton, a gentleman, musician and performer to the end. We extend our deepest sympathy to Norma, Gai, lan and Mia.

Kids Club is humming! The children meet at St Andrew's every Friday during NSW school term from 4.30pm until 6pm for songs, story and craft, and conclude with dinner. Parents are encouraged to stay and participate, and their assistance with cleaning up is greatly appreciated. A gold coin donation helps with the costs. For further information please contact Robyn Robertson 6152 1711.

The congregation will have a muffin/ slice stall at the Wamboin Markets on Saturday 17 June, in conjunction with the Australian Mountain Running Association's marathon, half marathon and other events from the WCA Hall into the Kowen Forest. We expect a large hungry crowd!

Donations of food are always welcomed at both churches to support St Benedict's, Queanbeyan to meet the growing demands from those in the community in need of help and assistance.

St Peter's Patronal Festival is on Sunday 25 June, and after the morning service we will meet at the renowned Sutton Bakery for a celebratory brunch. Please feel welcome to join us.

Services are held on the first and third Sunday of each month at St Andrew's, and on the second and third Sunday at St Peter's. All services start at 9am and are followed by a scrumptious morning tea and lively chat. You are guaranteed a warm welcome in a warm place.

For further information, queries or assistance please call any of the people listed below.

yass valley council Grants Programs open for community funding opportunities the country the people

Yass Valley Council is calling on applications for this year's Grants Program, which opens on Monday 29th May 2017 and closes on Friday 30th June 2017.

"Our Grants Program is a wonderful way for Council to provide financial assistance to our community groups and organisations," said Yass Valley Mayor, Rowena Abbey. "The Turning Wave Festival, Murrumbateman Progress Association and Yass First Scouts are just some of the previous community groups and events that we have been able to support."

Yass Valley Council's Grants Program is divided into three categories - Community Grants Program, Heritage Grants Program and Major Event Marketing Program.

The Community Grants Program aims to encourage the implementation of projects that enhance existing, or develop new, services and activities that:

- maximise access and usage of community resources, services and facilities;
- encourage the development of, and broad community participation in, community services, cultural activities and environmental initiatives;
- encourage environmental sustainability; and
- encourage inclusiveness, collaboration, capacity building, equity and social justice.

The Heritage Grants Program aims to assist owners, property managers and community groups to undertake projects that:

- foster positive community attitudes towards heritage and conservation; and
- maintenance projects to structures of historical value to ensure their long-term conservation.

The Major Event Marketing Program focuses on major events which have the capacity to draw visitation from outside the Local Government Area to build the image and profile of Yass Valley as an attractive destination.

A grant program information session (for Community and Major Event Marketing applications only) will be held on Thursday 8th June 2017, 6pm-7pm at Yass Valley Council Chambers, which will provide assistance to potential applicants.

For more information on the grants programs, application forms, guidelines and how to RSVP to the information session, please visit: www.yassvalley.nsw.gov.au/featured-programs/ grants-programs-open-community-funding-opportunities

GARDENING

Early morning gardening

Gardening is definitely one of those jobs you either get a lot of pleasure out of or you look for every excuse not to do it.

Gardening can be labour intensive and leave you exhausted and sore. But a solid day in the garden is guaranteed to provide some rewards if nothing else.

With today's fast pace and busy lifestyles, many of us have our days 'maxed out', with little or no time for our gardens. Like the gym, I find many gardening jobs are best done early before launching into your day.

Jobs for early morning gardening:

1. Watering: plants do very well if watered early. With the sun low, evaporation is minimal allowing proper soil moisture absorption. Morning watering gives the plant the optimum amount of time before the hot midday sun, preventing scorched leaves and dehydration.

Morning watering also prevents/ decreases the chance of pests and diseases as the leaves dry out before evening sets in. Another good reason to water in the morning, according to my reading, plants sleep at night, so they take up less water.

- 2. Pesticides and foliar fertiliser: plants absorb these products better in the morning.
- 3. Weeding: while the soil is still moist and cool it is relatively easy to remove weeds. A stroll early, pulling weeds as you go, will soon have you completely on top of them.
- 4. Cut flowers: I just love having flowers in the garden, and picking them for the house gives me so much joy (although I have a new garden at the moment, so flowers are few and far between - lucky for me, a wonderful friend brings me stunning roses from her garden).

- I digress early morning is a great time for picking, the stems are full of water so the flowers stay plump and have a longer vase life.
- 5. Harvesting: Just after the dew has lifted is a great time to pick fruits and vegetables. They are full of water, taste better and have a longer shelf
- 6. Bird feeders and bird baths: If you enjoy birds in your garden, it is great to have a few bird attracting features. Birds get up early and they are early feeders, they will always return to where they know they can find food. Fill your feeders and bird baths and you will reap the rewards of a busy bird-filled garden.
- 7. Transplanting and planting: It is easier on the plants, they don't have to work as hard to transpire (as they would need to do in the hot midday sun).
- 8. Propagation: again the stems are full of water, but also the plants natural 'rooting hormones' are highest to the tips first thing in the morning. You are likely to have more success by taking your cuttings early.

With a morning stroll, a cup of tea and a few quick gardening jobs, your garden will look wonderful and provide you with endless joy.
